

Five Year Milestone! Cheetah Rodent Control Thanks You!

The first thing owner Dana Stour wanted to say was "After five great years serving our customers we'd like to thank all of you for your support and for spreading the word about the Cheetah. We can't tell you how many times we've heard 'We love our Cheetah!', and we couldn't be more grateful. Our tagline 'If it breathes oxygen and is in a tunnel system, the Cheetah will eliminate it' is truer today than ever before".

Dana, the Cheetah's inventor and manufacturer says, "the majority of our sales now come from referrals and re-orders from existing customers. Our users really appreciate that no chemicals, poisons or explosives are used and with high kill rates, and ease of use it just further proves the Cheetah's effectiveness".

Thousands of clients including farmers, wineries, ranchers, municipalities, parks, equestrian facilities, schools, restorations and pest control companies are finding the Cheetah invaluable in eliminating ground squirrels, prairie dogs, groundhogs, gophers and all other burrowing rodents. As Dana says, "you name it, the Cheetah will get it". The Cheetah machine quickly kills tunneled rodents by capturing carbon monoxide produced by a self-contained 2-cycle engine producing over 35,000 ppm of CO and blowing the fumigant into the tunnel systems, asphyxiating the underground pests in minutes. Built tough to operate in rugged environments, the Cheetah is easy to maintain, portable and lightweight at only 16 lbs and ready for years of service.
