

Monarch coal-wood range model R9CW has 19 in. oven and a 4 gal. stainless steel water reservoir humidifier. Optional oil burners can be installed in place of the coal-wood burning section.

Monarch 36 in. range (model 6LEH) has built in coal-wood heater section. Electric section on right is completely protected from coal-wood section on left. Also available in gas model.

Modern Wood Ranges

"We never really stopped making coal and wood ranges since our company's origin in 1896," reports Don Dohmann, advertising manager for Monarch Range Co., Beaver Dam, Wis. "The energy crunch, and the abundance of firewood in many areas, triggered a surge in sales. Because of our technical and engineering background in manufacturing coal-wood ranges and heaters, we've been able to swing right into accelerated production to keep pace with increasing demand."

Dohmann reports that many farm families are using Monarch's combination ranges to take out the chill in the spring and fall, or as a main source of heat, depending on how large the home is. "It's also a comfortable feeling to have a place for auxiliary cooking on top of the coal-wood section, and a source of heat in case the electricity goes off."

Hour Photo Clocks are available for wall mounting in shadowbox or regular frames, or for setting on a desk top. Clock runs off flashlight battery. Photos easily slipped in or out if you want to change them from time to time.

CAN BE DISPLAYED ON DESK OR WALL

Here's a new and different way to display your favorite family photos — an Hour Photo Clock that you can hang on a wall, or set on a desk top.

"A great gift idea," suggests Family Time Co., manufacturer of the new product. It's available in two basic models (oval or rectangular photo opening), two formats (horizontal or vertical), three colors (charcoal, cocoa brown or ivory) and an optional three-piece set with matching frames for wall mounting.

Clock display is 9½ by 11½ in. All clocks use standard 5 by 7 photos and 8 by 10 frames. You can change photos and frames from time to time in a matter of minutes to match a new decor, to replace photos with newer ones, etc. The clock runs for about a year on any standard C cell flashlight battery.

Retails for $29.95.
