

INSTALLS IN SECONDS FROM INSIDE

Portable Scaffold Fits Most Windows

High-level windows are easy to wash or paint with Port-A-Skaf, a portable scaffold that "lets you do all your outside window work quickly and safely," says Distributor Sales, of Woodstock, Ill., marketer of the new product.

It installs in seconds from inside and fits most windows. "Just push the lightweight Port-A-Skaf out from inside your window, step out onto it, hang a bucket of water on the convenient hooks and you're ready to wash the outside window. Both hands will be free," James Barrett, of Distributor Sales, points out. The Port-A-Skaf can also be used on first floor windows to avoid damaging plants. It folds flat and expands or contracts to fit the width of each window.

The portable unit, supported over the sill of the window, can safely hold over 1,000 lbs., according to Barrett. It can be stored in an upstairs closet for standby use as a fire escape balcony.

Weighing 19 lbs., it's made of tubular steel, chrome-plated for complete weather proofing. Rigid platform is made of 3/4 in. plywood.

Suggested retail cost of the Port-A-Skaf is $89.95.

For more details, contact: FARM SHOW Followup, James Barrett, President, Distributor Sales, Box 363, Woodstock, Ill. 60098 (ph 815 338-1174).

EXACT REPLICA CAN BE USED AS REGULAR DIAL PHONE

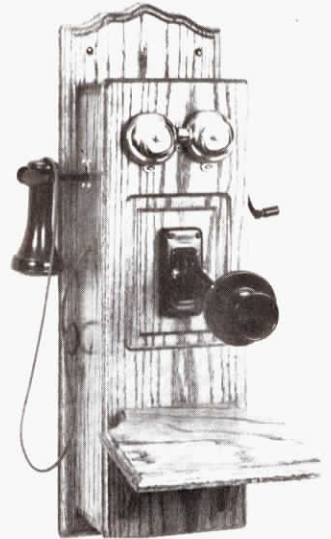

Old Wall Phone Back In Style

Popular demand has brought back the old-style wall phone. An exact replica, introduced by Vintage Oak Furniture, comes equipped for use as a regular dial phone for making calls in or out when plugged into a regular phone jack.

The box of the Standard Wall Telephone is dove-tailed, as were the old original wall phones, and the entire telephone is an exact copy of a 1907 Kellogg — right down to the brass bells which are adjustable as to loudness. Made of solid oak and hand-rubbed to a golden oak finish. The crank, receiver and mouthpiece all work. The enclosing cover and shelf is hinged. Dimensions of the phone are 12 by 8.5 by 14.5 in.

Sells for $139.

For more details, contact: FARM SHOW Followup, Vintage Oak Furniture, Via Fabricant, Mission Viejo, Calif. 92675 (ph 714-768-1691).

ELECTRIC ENGRAVER

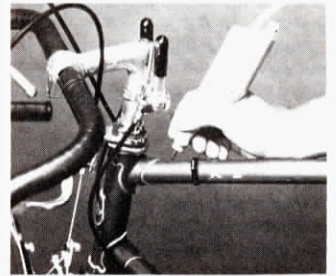

Can You Prove It's Your Property?

If your shop tools, machinery or other equipment is stolen, there's no assurance it can be recovered — if there are no permanent serial or other identification numbers. Stolen property that can't be positively identified can't be used as evidence against a suspected burglar.

Here's an easy way to make sure you can prove it's your property: Brand it with the new model 4900 electric engraver from Rockwell International. It permanently engraves metal, glass, plastic and wood. Features a replaceable carbide point, adjustable depth of cut, and pencil grip design for sure control. In addition to discouraging would-be burglars, your mark on tools and equipment helps remind borrowers where to return them, and helps prevent property mixups.

Check with your local sheriff or Farm Bureau officials to see if your county participates in an organized farm and ranch crime prevention program. If so, officials will be able to suggest a special code to use in marking your equipment. Each participating farm has an ID number which is registered with the county sheriff's office. Federal, state and county agencies concerned with the transportation of stolen property across state lines receive a directory which enables them to quickly locate these ID numbers.

For instances, if you were a John A.

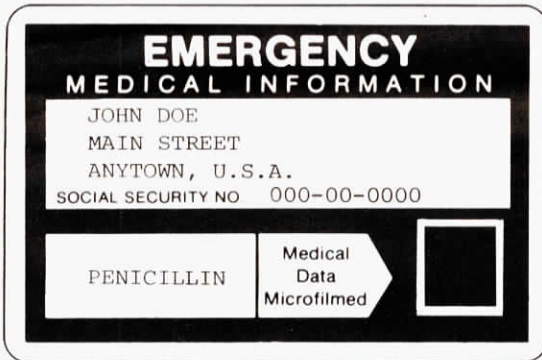

Rockwell engraver has a replaceable carbide point, adjustable depth of cut and a pencil-type grip for sure control.

Doe, of David City, Neb., your number would be NB02503061D. The NB is for Nebraska, "025" is for Butler County, and 0306 indicates you were the 306th farmer participating in the program whose last name begins with D.

Regardless of which type of code or mark you use, it's recommended that you place it on more than one place on most equipment, including some out-of-way location known only to you.

For more details on the electric engraver, contact: FARM SHOW Followup, Rockwell International, J. M. Sheehan, public relations manager, Suite 600, 6263 Popular Avenue, Memphis, Tenn. 38138 (ph 901-671-3820).

YOUR MEDICAL HISTORY REDUCED TO MICROFILM AND CARRIED WITH YOU

Medi-Card Could Save Your Life

Now you can carry your complete medical history, including any special instructions regarding allergies or medications, with you at all times on a plastic card you carry in your purse or billfold.

In case of an accident or other emergency, when seconds count, doctors or emergency room personnel only have to grab this card to get your complete medical history. It has been reduced to microfilm and sealed inside a plastic card which travels with you wherever you go to help answer such questions as — Blood type? Diabetic? Heart condition? Allergic to penicillin or other drugs?

Eye glass prescription? Family physician and address? Insurance company and policy number? Shot record? Whom to contact for surgical authorization?

You fill out a standard medical record form which is then returned to the company and reduced to microfilm and sealed in plastic, along with your name, address, social security number and phone number. Cost is $3.95 per card.

For more details, contact: FARM SHOW Followup, Emergency Medical Information, c/o David Edstrom, 5748 N.E. 16th Ave., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. 33334.